Introduction Brief Spoken Announcement

“As a church, we want to be a place where we speak biblical truth with love and care for people with compassion. That includes those whose lives have been touched by abortion. You may have a personal experience, or you may care about someone who does.

We want you to know that you do not have to carry grief, regret, or questions alone. There is hope in Christ, and we want to walk alongside you as you consider your next step. We are making Broken from Silence resources available at [Location]. You are welcome to take them without explaining why. If you would like a private conversation or information about support, please contact [Name] at [Contact Information].

No one is being asked to share publicly. This is simply an invitation to receive care, explore hope, and know that you are not alone.”
